

WHAT CAN YOU EXPECT?

Want to achieve more than you are able? Need to endure more than you can bear? Rachel and the Apostle Paul illustrate how we do that by relying on one another. Revealing the secret of interdependence, this relevant message will equip you to:

- Reduce your insistence on self-sufficiency and invest in those around you
- Deepen your relationships with others by embracing their importance
- Avoid becoming overwhelmed by giving yourself permission to ask for help

A Friend Loves At All Times... Proverbs 17:17

How Does Your Garden Grow? God designed us to need one another, He planted the seed of relationship deep within us and commands us to bear one another's burdens. How do we fulfill that command? We will break into small groups to dig deeper into God's word and uncover how to identify and remove weeds that may be keeping our friendships from growing into all we desire them to be. We will learn to nurture relationships with ingredients that will produce a healthy garden full of flowers, each with a unique purpose for our lives and how "Love Holds Us Together" through this process.

Rachel penned the book It's No Secret: Revealing Divine Truths Every Woman Should Know. It is simultaneously a love letter, a mirror, an instruction manual, and a window into God's heart."

With a master's degree in communication studies from a Christian graduate program, Rachel teaches for the University of North Carolina in Wilmington. She and her husband Rick live on the coast where they raise two school-age children, serve together at their church, play hotly contested games of horse-shoes, and walk the beach season 'round.

As an author and speaker, Rachel opens women's eyes to the truths of God, the ways of God, the beauty of God, and the blessings of God - so we can all see and savor Him.
